From the Pope

At the midday hour it is the Church's tradition to turn in prayer to the Blessed Virgin Mary, joyfully recalling her ready acceptance of the Lord's invitation to become the mother of God. It was an invitation that filled her with trepidation, one which she could scarcely even comprehend. It was a sign that God had chosen her, His lowly handmaid, to cooperate with Him in His saving work. How we rejoice at the generosity of her response! Through her "yes", the hope of the ages became a reality, the ONE WHOM ISRAEL HAD LONG AWAITED came into the world, into our history. Of Him the angel promised that His kingdom would have no end (cf. Lk 1:33).

Some thirty years later, as Mary stood weeping at the foot of the cross, it must have been hard to keep that hope alive. The forces of darkness seemed to have gained the upper hand. And yet, deep down, she would have remembered the angel's words. Even amid the desolation of Holy Saturday the certitude of hope carried her forward into the joy of Easter morning. And so we, her children, live in the same confident hope that the Word made flesh in Mary's womb will never abandon us. He, the Son of God and Son of Mary, strengthens the communion that binds us together, so that we can bear witness to Him and to the power of His healing and reconciling love. - June 6, 2010 at the Angelus
